

You and your entire workplace can create meaningful, lasting change as a team. You can raise funds for Oxford House while creating a culture of teamwork and philanthropy. Below you will find some ideas to help you get started.

CORPORATE FUNDRAISING IDEAS

You can add a fundraising component to a current event, or set up a corporate fundraiser that will attract employees and inspire them to donate to Oxford House Foundation. Make it fun, entertaining, and simple, appealing to the different types of people within your company.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Employees set up bowling teams and compete with one another at a bowling tournament. Set pledges for every strike made, for winning teams, pins knocked down, and so forth.

COMPANY PICNIC

During the picnic, you can also set up fun events, like relay races, an egg toss, pie-eating contests, or other activities to make it a great time for all.

Employees can bring in their most hilarious photo of themselves to participate in a humorous photo contest. Place each photo on a bulletin board with a collection can under each. Employees vote on the favourite photo by placing a donation in the can. Collect and tally donations daily and let employees know who is in the lead. At the end of the event, present the winner with a plaque, trophy, or other amusing prize.

SILENT AUCTIONS

Add silent auction items to your corporate event with proceeds going to Oxford House Foundation.

VEGAS NIGHT

Set up a casino night where participants can play poker, roulette, black jack, craps and other casino style games. All participants make a donation to gain poker chips they can use for games and redeem for prizes.

Tell us when you are planning your event so we can discuss how we will recognize your company as well as if you would like promotional materials, volunteers, or an Oxford House representative to speak before or during the event.
